

L to R: Paul Braun, founder of the Citizens To Save Lake James group and movement, celebrates the new Lake James State Park expansion with Governor Mike Easley. The Governor acknowledged Mr. Braun with starting the state park expansion process "with a pencil", referring to the dozens of editorials, articles and nearly 7,000 signatures collected by Braun and other volunteers to stop overdevelopment at Lake James.