

march, 1997 news Herald

4-H'ers help state park

Recently, two homeschooling 4-H clubs gave a helping hand to the rangers at Lake James State Park. The "It's Not What It Seems 4-H Club" and the "Nature Discovery Team" built birdhouses out of recycled wood. The wood was supplied by Ranger Earl J. Weaver, III and the birdhouses assembled by the 4-H'ers. The birdhouses will be placed throughout Lake James State Park. When the birdhouses were completed, the 4-H clubs were treated to a slide show on animal habitats presented by Ranger Roy Rogers. Shown in the photo are: front row, from left, Michael Clontz, Katie Wise, Alex Long, Jeremy Coleman, Taylor Mackay and Timothy Coleman. Back row: Ranger Roy Rogers, Daniel Long, Adam Mackay, Nate Ziegler, Michael Mackay and Samantha Ziegler.